

1	Hanley Ramirez	$42	Still a premier talent despite small downturn in '10.
2	Albert Pujols	$42	Contract or no contract, still a monster.
3	Miguel Cabrera	$41	Set to make another Triple Crown run.
4	Troy Tulowitzki	$40	Could make run at first MVP Award.
5	Evan Longoria	$39	Complete package at the hot corner.
6	Ryan Braun	$38	Seems to have traded power for AVG.
7	Joey Votto	$37	Reigning NL MVP poised for another monster year.
8	Adrian Gonzalez	$36	Goodbye PETCO; hello Green Monster, Pesky's Pole.
9	David Wright	$35	Regained power stroke, but not '05-'08 form.
10	Carlos Gonzalez	$35	Won't repeat AVG, but still a dynamic talent.
11	Robinson Cano	$34	Emerged as a superstar in '10.
12	Carl Crawford	$33	New team, same top-rate production.
13	Mark Teixeira	$33	Post-break surge righted sluggish first half.
14	Josh Hamilton	$33	Move to left field should help MVP stay healthy.
15	Ryan Zimmerman	$33	Franchise player still getting better.
16	Roy Halladay	$33	Doc is in class by himself.
17	Felix Hernandez	$31	Top-flight starter despite lack of run support.
18	Prince Fielder	$31	Looking to rebound after power drop in '10.
19	Alex Rodriguez	$31	Past prime, but still highly productive.
20	Tim Lincecum	$31	Nothing tiny about Tim's high-90s heater.
21	Jose Reyes	$30	Durability a concern, but still an electric talent.
22	Matt Holliday	$29	Expect usual All-Star-caliber production.
23	Ryan Howard	$28	Was 2010 just an off year, or has decline begun?
24	Kevin Youkilis	$28	Will hit near heart of dangerous Red Sox order.
25	Dustin Pedroia	$28	Expect rebound after injury shortened potential career year.
26	Matt Kemp	$27	Better numbers on horizon for all-around talent.
27	Nelson Cruz	$27	Despite injury concerns, an enticing power/speed combo.

28	Justin Upton	$26	Blue-chip talent may take another step forward.
29	Cliff Lee	$26	Move back to NL only helps control master.
30	Joe Mauer	$25	The game's top catcher, despite drop in homers.
31	Dan Uggla	$24	Consistent power bat should thrive in new home park.
32	Clayton Kershaw	$24	Improved control has young lefty on cusp of elite status.
33	Ian Kinsler	$24	Five-category stud when healthy, but risk as massive as the reward.
34	Adam Dunn	$24	Steady veteran is the human metronome of power.
35	Josh Johnson	$24	Back-to-back All-Star heading into age-27 season.
36	Justin Morneau	$23	Injury concerns could make him a draft-day steal.
37	Adrian Beltre	$23	In prime position to sustain quality production.
38	Jimmy Rollins	$23	No longer an MVP candidate, but valuable at weak position.
39	Shin-Soo Choo	$22	Among the game's most underrated performers.
40	Hunter Pence	$22	Talented all-around outfielder entering prime.
41	Jason Heyward	$22	Superstardom coming, but still only 21.
42	Jose Bautista	$22	Will come back to earth, but HR power is legit.
43	Victor Martinez	$22	DH at-bats should help overall numbers.
44	Rickie Weeks	$22	Finally showed what he can do when healthy.
45	Brandon Phillips	$21	Counting stats dropped, but rates say skills haven't declined.
46	Brian McCann	$21	Dependable power, year in and year out.
47	Chase Utley	$21	May be limited all season due to knee injury.
48	Derek Jeter	$21	Not a five-tool stud, but powerful lineup helps.
49	Andrew McCutchen	$20	Quality talent set to emerge as a star.
50	CC Sabathia	$20	Burly southpaw worth big bucks.
51	Jon Lester	$20	Should make a run at first 20-win season.
52	Mariano Rivera	$20	Still nearly automatic.
53	Justin Verlander	$20	Few can match ace's velocity.
54	Alex Rios	$20	Should continue to fill all five categories.

55	Elvis Andrus	$20	Steals dropped off in second half of '10.
56	Jay Bruce	$19	Rising star set to make next leap.
57	Buster Posey	$19	2010 breakout star already an elite performer.
58	Mike Stanton	$19	Young super slugger set to rack up HRs.
59	Ubaldo Jimenez	$18	Second-half struggles shouldn't overshadow 15-1 start.
60	Jayson Werth	$18	Move to Washington hurts value.
61	Kendrys Morales	$18	Will likely begin season on DL.
62	Alexei Ramirez	$18	Durable with quality power/speed combo.
63	Heath Bell	$18	Firmly entrenched in elite class.
64	Martin Prado	$18	Set career highs across the board in '10.
65	Joakim Soria	$18	Underrated yet extremely reliable.
66	Zack Greinke	$17	Expect something between '09 and '10 numbers.
67	Brian Wilson	$17	Now a legit top-tier option.
68	Paul Konerko	$17	Dependable slugger showing few signs of slowing.
69	Neftali Feliz	$17	Will remain in closer role for '11.
70	Ichiro Suzuki	$16	Future Hall of Famer should tally 11th straight .300 season.
71	Cole Hamels	$16	Scintillating second half puts him among league's best.
72	Francisco Liriano	$16	No longer a sleeper after resurgent '10.
73	Jacoby Ellsbury	$16	Expect a bounceback year from the speedster.
74	Carlos Marmol	$16	High-K closer needs to limit free passes.
75	Tommy Hanson	$15	Could be a Cy Young contender for the next decade.
76	Chris Young	$15	2010 proved multi-talented OF is here to stay.
77	David Price	$15	One of the game's brightest young starters.
78	Pedro Alvarez	$15	Slugger set to build on promising rookie season.
79	Carlos Santana	$15	Knee injury should not be an issue.
80	Aaron Hill	$15	Hidden behind AVG collapse: rate stats and power survived.
81	Stephen Drew	$15	A well-rounded performer up the middle.

82	Colby Rasmus	$15	Will be a star if he continues improving approach.
83	Mat Latos	$15	23-year-old will try to repeat dominant rookie year.
84	Adam Lind	$15	Could be a bargain after disappointing '10.
85	Billy Butler	$14	Will this be the year those doubles turn into homers?
86	Jered Weaver	$14	Under-the-radar stud quietly dominated in '10.
87	Casey McGehee	$14	Unlikely slugger proving to be real deal.
88	Ben Zobrist	$14	Expect bounceback from disappointing '10.
89	Yovani Gallardo	$14	Can jump a tier with improved control.
90	Roy Oswalt	$14	Don't overlook him in Phillies rotation.
91	Geovany Soto	$14	A solid bargain after rebound season.
92	Aramis Ramirez	$14	Should deliver better numbers if health holds up.
93	B.J. Upton	$14	Draft him for speed and power, not average.
94	Shane Victorino	$13	Power, AVG will revert to mean in '11.
95	Jonathan Papelbon	$13	Should rebound from down year.
96	Delmon Young	$13	Finally made good on his potential in 2010.
97	Francisco Rodriguez	$13	Potential value pick coming off turbulent season.
98	Andre Ethier	$13	Slugger in prime of career.
99	Kelly Johnson	$12	Could match career year at hitter-friendly Chase Field.
100	Drew Stubbs	$12	Great power and speed, but low AVG.
101	Dan Haren	$12	Rock-solid starter should be available at fair price.
102	Mike Napoli	$12	Value increased by trade to Texas.
103	Curtis Granderson	$12	Late-season power surge is a good omen.
104	Max Scherzer	$12	Dominated after return from Minors last season.
105	Chris Carpenter	$12	Proved health, but stumbled slightly in second half.
106	Nick Swisher	$12	Expect a dropoff from career-best average.
107	Clay Buchholz	$12	Rising talent, but beware the AL East.
108	Carlos Beltran	$12	Things looking up in contract year.

109	Carlos Pena	$11	You know the drill: low AVG, but power to spare.
110	Adam Jones	$11	Solidly above average or a potential superstar?
111	Brett Anderson	$11	Upside is unquestioned, but injury risk remains.
112	Carlos Quentin	$11	Dangerous power bat when healthy.
113	Matt Cain	$11	Durable veteran a very safe bet.
114	Nick Markakis	$11	Consistent, but power trending downward.
115	Pablo Sandoval	$11	Should be motivated to rebound from rough '10.
116	Rafael Furcal	$11	High injury risk, but still a premier performer when healthy.
117	Jose Valverde	$11	As '10 first half proves, capable of dominating.
118	Jonathan Sanchez	$10	Fireballer would be an ace on some clubs.
119	Matt Wieters	$10	Took a step back offensively, but still just 24.
120	Angel Pagan	$10	Here to stay as productive starter.
121	Jason Bay	$10	Won't approach '09 numbers, but should rebound.
122	Brian Roberts	$10	Expected to be healthy, but may have entered decline phase.
123	Carlos Lee	$9	Aging bopper capable of topping '10 production.
124	Chad Billingsley	$9	Bounced back strong in '10, but still capable of better.
125	Shaun Marcum	$9	Proved health in breakout '10 campaign.
126	Corey Hart	$9	Steals have declined, but power is legit.
127	Ian Desmond	$9	Power/speed combo makes him popular after big names.
128	Wandy Rodriguez	$9	Still has road troubles, but lights-out in second half.
129	Michael Bourn	$9	Speedster has developed into legit leadoff man.
130	Brett Gardner	$9	Yankees' lineup ensures plenty of runs.
131	Mark Reynolds	$9	Improved luck will lead to better numbers.
132	Grady Sizemore	$9	Likely to begin season on DL.
133	Denard Span	$9	Grab this speedster for his steals.
134	Starlin Castro	$8	Raked from start to finish as rookie.
135	Daniel Hudson	$8	Developing youngster offers huge strikeout potential.

136	David Ortiz	$8	Still some thunder left in Papi's stick.
137	Jonathan Broxton	$8	Disastrous '10 finish raises questions entering '11.
138	Gio Gonzalez	$7	Strikeout artist must tame wildness.
139	Neil Walker	$7	Converted catcher will bat third this year.
140	Austin Jackson	$7	Beware of regression after lucky average.
141	Ricky Nolasco	$7	Control freak susceptible to the long ball.
142	Gordon Beckham	$7	Summer hot streak showed upside amid sophomore slump.
143	Jose Tabata	$7	Promising catalyst should deliver plenty of SB.
144	Ryan Dempster	$7	Steady, durable mid-rotation starter.
145	Matt Garza	$7	Move to Cubs shouldn't affect overall value.
146	Ian Stewart	$7	Slugger set to take another step forward.
147	Miguel Montero	$7	Everyone's favorite sleeper finally has starting gig.
148	John Danks	$7	One of baseball's most consistent arms.
149	Juan Pierre	$7	Active steals leader not slowing down yet.
150	Vernon Wells	$7	Slugger needs to improve against lefties.
151	Huston Street	$6	Health is his only obstacle.
152	Chris Coghlan	$6	Sparkplug looking to rebound after freak injury.
153	Derrek Lee	$6	Aging slugger looks to be on downswing.
154	Francisco Cordero	$6	Fading, but generally reliable.
155	Tim Hudson	$6	Groundball machine has improved with age.
156	John Axford	$6	Don't expect letdown following sensational rookie campaign.
157	Andres Torres	$6	Late bloomer offers speed, extra-base pop.
158	Vladimir Guerrero	$6	Don't expect full repeat of '10 numbers.
159	Jorge De La Rosa	$6	K/9 rate dropped every month of '10.
160	Joe Nathan	$5	Will look to make triumphant return from Tommy John surgery.
161	Jhoulys Chacin	$5	Has the arsenal to succeed at Coors Field.
162	Luke Scott	$5	Does his best work at Camden Yards.

163	Ryan Raburn	$5	Strong finish in '10 makes him a sleeper.
164	Chris Perez	$5	Closer gig now all his.
165	Torii Hunter	$5	Four-time All-Star is reaching career twilight.
166	Howard Kendrick	$5	Counting stats were up, but beware of AVG-driven value.
167	Ted Lilly	$5	Underrated hurler should flourish at Dodger Stadium.
168	Brandon Morrow	$5	Explosive fastball racks up Ks.
169	Phil Hughes	$5	Expect greater durability in second full season.
170	J.J. Putz	$5	Ready for return to closer role.
171	Michael Young	$5	Expect more of the same from Rangers icon.
172	Asdrubal Cabrera	$5	Fractured forearm derailed promising '10 campaign.
173	Matt Thornton	$4	High-K lefty carries huge upside.
174	Chris Iannetta	$4	Additional playing time in Coors Field could lead to breakout.
175	Trevor Cahill	$4	Lived up to potential in second season.
176	Andrew Bailey	$4	Forearm strain will sideline him past Opening Day.
177	Madison Bumgarner	$4	21-year-old set to deliver in sophomore season.
178	Ryan Franklin	$4	Still effective, despite lack of Ks.
179	Jeremy Hellickson	$4	Young stud has rotation slot, ready for the Show.
180	Sean Rodriguez	$4	Has power and speed but not enough plate discipline.
181	Dexter Fowler	$4	Raw talent slowly improving.
182	Ervin Santana	$4	Stock rising after resurgent '10 season.
183	Joel Hanrahan	$4	Named Pirates closer on Feb. 16.
184	Ricky Romero	$4	Young southpaw proved worth in breakout '10.
185	Colby Lewis	$4	Proved himself on biggest stage last October.
186	Yunel Escobar	$4	Career .289 hitter should recover after rough '10.
187	Ryan Madson	$3	Will see save opportunities while Lidge recovers.
188	Gaby Sanchez	$3	Capable matching surprise rookie season.
189	Cliff Pennington	$3	Won't hit for great average, but speed is major plus.

190	Kurt Suzuki	$3	Tons of at-bats should help pile up counting stats.
191	C.J. Wilson	$3	Never looked back in transition to rotation.
192	Carlos Zambrano	$3	8-0, 1.41 ERA after return to rotation.
193	Alcides Escobar	$3	Sleeper potential heading into second season.
194	Carl Pavano	$3	Durability has become his biggest strength.
195	Domonic Brown	$3	Will split at-bats with Ben Francisco when healthy.
196	Drew Storen	$3	The best of Washington's closer committee.
197	Jhonny Peralta	$3	Power numbers improved after trade to Detroit last season.
198	Chone Figgins	$3	Age, falling walk and stolen base rates point to start of decline.
199	Kevin Gregg	$3	Wildness a recurring trend.
200	Tsuyoshi Nishioka	$3	Switch-hitter can hit for AVG and steal, but don't expect power.
201	Bobby Abreu	$3	Veteran's age beginning to show.
202	Jaime Garcia	$3	Expect Cardinals to loosen reins on 13-game winner.
203	Juan Oviedo	$3	Could be on short leash if inconsistencies continue.
204	Miguel Tejada	$3	Well-traveled veteran defies age, keeps hitting.
205	Will Venable	$3	Don't expect a significant power upgrade.
206	Brandon Lyon	$3	Will look to carry '10 closing success into '11.
207	Mike Aviles	$3	Proved rookie season was no fluke and earned full-time job.
208	Jorge Posada	$2	Move to DH will help, but likely nearing end of career.
209	Adam LaRoche	$2	Solid counting stats mask declining ratios.
210	Fernando Rodney	$2	Control issues lessen job security.
211	Edinson Volquez	$2	Control still an issue, but velocity isn't.
212	Michael Cuddyer	$2	Inconsistent veteran is coming off knee surgery.
213	Craig Kimbrel	$2	Hard-throwing righty favorite for saves in Atlanta.
214	Mike Minor	$2	Young lefty boasts strong peripherals.
215	Brad Lidge	$2	Shoulder issues are a major concern.
216	Ty Wigginton	$2	Reliable power source has multi-position eligibility.

217	David Aardsma	$2	Hoping to return by mid-April.
218	Brian Fuentes	$2	Likely to close while Andrew Bailey is sidelined.
219	Aubrey Huff	$2	Still getting it done at advanced age.
220	Hong-Chih Kuo	$2	Lights-out setup man could factor into saves mix.
221	Jason Kubel	$2	Slugger looking for return to '09 form.
222	Chase Headley	$2	Slowly improving despite home park.
223	Travis Snider	$2	Finally breakout time for perpetual prospect?
224	Matt Capps	$2	Valuable injury insurance for Nathan owners.
225	Jonny Venters	$2	Will look to build on strong rookie campaign.
226	Anibal Sanchez	$2	Solid overall numbers damaged only by road woes
227	Danny Espinosa	$2	Intriguing skill set, but may suffer rookie growing pains
228	Ike Davis	$2	Known for glove, but youngster also handy with the stick.
229	Javier Vazquez	$1	Veteran returns to NL, but velocity a concern.
230	Rajai Davis	$1	Steals may decrease in powerful lineup.
231	Jon Rauch	$1	Likely to see early-season save opportunities.
232	Ian Kennedy	$1	Could reach 200 Ks, but beware the heavy '10 workload.
233	Jordan Zimmermann	$1	Polished youngster back at full strength.
234	James Loney	$1	Just not enough power to be a mixed-league starter.
235	Placido Polanco	$1	Consistent batsman should deliver usual production.
236	Lance Berkman	$1	Can balky knee withstand full-time OF gig?
237	Kila Ka'aihue	$1	Minor League masher could wow with regular playing time.
238	Hiroki Kuroda	$1	Veteran is a safe, consistent pick.
239	Jarrod Saltalamacchia	$1	Don't overlook him in stacked Red Sox lineup.
240	James Shields	$1	Should be a bargain after poor '10 season.
241	Daric Barton	$1	Walk leader a must-draft in leagues that count OBP.
242	Daniel Bard	$1	Future closer already among top setup men.
243	Coco Crisp	$1	Only injuries holding him back.

244	John Lackey	$1	Expect a bounceback after rough first season in Boston.
245	Miguel Olivo	$1	Safeco Field could depress power numbers.
246	Jose Contreras	$1	Could split April closer duties with Ryan Madson.
247	Mitch Moreland	$1	Promising youngster must hit to maintain playing time.
248	Magglio Ordonez	$1	Former batting champ still has something left.
249	Brett Myers	$1	Don't overpay for one quality season since '06.
250	Justin Smoak	$1	Post-hype sleeper struggled early but raked in September.
251	Brandon League	$1	Likely to open season as Mariners' closer.
252	Omar Infante	$1	Surprise All-Star will play every day in '11.
253	A.J. Pierzynski	$1	Veteran is a low-risk, low-reward option.
254	Tyler Colvin	$1	Promising youngster just needs full-time job.
255	Edwin Jackson	$1	Thrived upon return to AL in '10.
256	J.D. Drew	$1	Injuries and platoon split are concerning.
257	Josh Beckett	$1	Has something to prove after down year.
258	Chris Johnson	$1	Free-swinger could suffer sophomore slump.
259	Bill Hall	$1	Power rebounded in 2010, AVG still low.
260	Juan Miranda	$1	Minor League veteran could seize job with convincing Spring.
261	Logan Morrison	$1	Don't expect immediate power from promising youngster.
262	Ryan Theriot	$1	Consistent performer a good option after big names.
263	Jake Peavy	$1	All about health for the former ace.
264	Takashi Saito	$1	Lights-out reliever might get to close a few games.
265	Brad Hawpe	$1	Will look to revive career with Padres.
266	Russell Martin	$1	Hoping to revitalize career in the Bronx.
267	Cameron Maybin	$1	Still time for former top prospect to make good.
268	Manny Ramirez	$1	Slugger's bat still has something left.
269	Carlos Ruiz	$1	A little pop, but don't expect .300 AVG again.
270	Scott Rolen	$1	Veteran hot corner still going strong.

271	Brian Matusz	$1	Quietly dominant second half last season.
272	Kyle Drabek	$1	Great sleeper potential in head-to-head formats.
273	Yadier Molina	$1	Steady, reliable backstop for deep leaguers.
274	Freddie Freeman	$1	Rookie hit machine an early NL ROY favorite.
275	Luke Gregerson	$1	Dominant setup man carries late-round appeal.
276	Alfonso Soriano	$1	Aging outfielder still delivers thump.
277	Johnny Cueto	$1	Does everything well enough, but nothing great.
278	Marco Scutaro	$1	Will score plenty in powerful Red Sox lineup.
279	Matt LaPorta	$1	Running out of chances to make good on lofty potential.
280	J.J. Hardy	$1	Capable of hitting 20-plus jacks in Baltimore if healthy.
281	Derek Holland	$1	Won rotation slot during Spring Training.
282	J.P. Arencibia	$1	Job is his after Blue Jays let John Buck walk.
283	Chipper Jones	$1	Can still hit, but can he stay healthy?
284	A.J. Burnett	$1	Risky play for strikeout-starved owners.
285	Mike Adams	$1	Elite setup man could be closing by year's end.
286	Jair Jurrjens	$1	Looking to rebound from inconsistent, injury-riddled '10.
287	Danny Valencia	$1	Youngster set to build on promising rookie season.
288	Travis Wood	$1	Has stuff to distinguish himself from stiff starting competition.
289	Juan Uribe	$1	Free-swinger brings power, but an AVG liability.
290	Aroldis Chapman	$1	Bullpen duty, innings limit, dilute impact of 100-mph phenom.
291	Rafael Soriano	$1	Overqualified for setup role.
292	Lyle Overbay	$1	Offers ordinary production at power-packed position.
293	Bobby Jenks	$1	Former closer now relegated to setup duty.
294	Jon Niese	$1	Mature lefty should make strides in second full season.
295	John Buck	$1	2010 All-Star unlikely to match career-best numbers.
296	Marlon Byrd	$1	Productive starter delivers AVG, some pop.
297	Julio Borbon	$1	Young speedster has tremendous upside.

298	Dallas Braden	$1	Southpaw succeeds without power stuff.
299	Johnny Damon	$1	Aging veteran lost a lot of power last year.
300	David DeJesus	$1	New home ballpark isn't favorable.
301	Jake Westbrook	$1	Thrived under Dave Duncan's tutelage.
302	Gavin Floyd	$1	Streaky hurler can carry a team when hot.
303	Raul Ibanez	$1	Veteran batsman still gets job done.
304	James McDonald	$1	Expect lots of Ks, few Ws, as Bucs' No. 1 starter.
305	Matt Joyce	$1	Power numbers should increase with more playing time.
306	Josh Willingham	$1	Injuries, new ballpark present obstacles.
307	Clay Hensley	$1	Might see save chances if Leo Nunez falters.
308	Alex Gonzalez	$1	Unlikely to match big power numbers from '10.
309	Bronson Arroyo	$1	Vet should nab wins for strong Reds club.
310	Wade Davis	$1	Improved down the stretch as a rookie.
311	Jason Bartlett	$1	Stock fell after poor '10, but still a quality speed source.
312	Nate McLouth	$1	On notice to prove skills aren't in decline.
313	Edwin Encarnacion	$1	Could deliver big numbers in DH role.
314	Kevin Kouzmanoff	$1	Don't expect much improvement at this point.
315	Ben Francisco	$1	Will start in right field, while Domonic Brown recovers.
316	Scott Baker	$1	Slow starter usually gains steam as season progresses.
317	R.A. Dickey	$1	Ground balls key to knuckleballer's success.
318	Michael Morse	$1	Claimed starting job during Spring Training.
319	Scott Podsednik	$1	Veteran may not sustain '10 production.
320	Cody Ross	$1	Streaky, but final numbers are decent.
321	Reid Brignac	$1	Rays' new shortstop a worthy AL-only play.
322	Jonny Gomes	$1	Should provide power in starting role.
323	Desmond Jennings	$1	Crawford's eventual replacement has similar skills.
324	Jack Cust	$1	Power gives left-handed slugger some value.

325	Orlando Cabrera	$1	Proven veteran typically available at fair price.
326	Jeff Francoeur	$1	Power numbers should rise away from Citi Field.
327	Ryan Ludwick	$1	Struggled in initial go-around with Padres.
328	Michael Pineda	$1	Could form dynamic 1-2 punch with King Felix.
329	Franklin Gutierrez	$1	Decent power/speed combo for deep-leaguers.
330	Seth Smith	$1	Valuable in a platoon role.
331	Erick Aybar	$1	Coming off down year, but speed still an asset.
332	Brad Emaus	$1	Rule 5 pick won starting job this spring.
333	Eric Young	$1	Could be an impact base-stealer with full-time AB's.
334	Jose Lopez	$1	Coors Field should help infielder rebound.
335	Carlos Guillen	$1	Bat still has life, but injury prone and aging.
336	David Freese	$1	Breakout season hinges on health.
337	Brandon Inge	$1	Inconsistent hitter likely to see average drop.
338	Clayton Richard	$1	Much more effective at home, to no surprise.
339	Chris Getz	$1	Newfound basepaths prowess provides value when he plays.
340	Orlando Hudson	$1	Will be challenged in pitcher-friendly PETCO Park
341	Hideki Matsui	$1	Move to Oakland could hurt aging veteran's stats.
342	David Murphy	$1	Has upside if he finds more playing time.
343	Jed Lowrie	$1	Pop could be valuable in everyday role.
344	Jeremy Guthrie	$1	Quietly enjoyed bounceback season.
345	Fausto Carmona	$1	Enigmatic sinkerballer a risk/reward option.
346	Peter Bourjos	$1	Triple-A stats indicate the speedster can hit.
347	Brandon Beachy	$1	Rookie posted stellar Minor League numbers.
348	Yuniesky Betancourt	$1	Notorious free-swinging is cheap source of pop.
349	Mark Buehrle	$1	200-innings and 10-plus wins for 10 straight seasons.
350	Randy Wells	$1	Strikeouts rose in sophomore season, but so did walks.
351	Nyjer Morgan	$1	Speedster needs to improve vs. LHP.

352	Russell Brayan	$1	Made D-backs roster out of Spring Training.
353	Clint Barmes	$1	Sidelined for six weeks with broken hand
354	Skip Schumaker	$1	Little value if AVG doesn't bounce back.
355	Jorge Cantu	$1	Should fill platoon role with Padres.
356	Freddy Sanchez	$1	Former batting champ is coming off surgery.
357	Jon Garland	$1	Will begin season on DL with oblique injury.
358	Dustin Ackley	$1	Top ROY candidate if given enough playing time.
359	Cory Luebke	$1	Prospect is ready for a big league rotation slot.
360	Bud Norris	$1	Strikeouts come at the expense of poor WHIP.
361	Daisuke Matsuzaka	$1	Should come cheaply after disappointing season.
362	Tom Gorzelanny	$1	Trade to Nats should mean more starts.
363	Blake DeWitt	$1	Lacks the power, speed, discipline to offer upside.
364	Joaquin Benoit	$1	Strikeout machine posted career year in '10.
365	Joe Blanton	$1	Should get plenty of support from Phillies' offense.
366	Brennan Boesch	$1	Second-half collapse likely hurts value.
367	Randy Wolf	$1	Not flashy, but could be solid.
368	Pat Burrell	$1	Veteran slugger capable of another solid season.
369	Mike Moustakas	$1	Mega power prospect will get chance by midseason.
370	Joe Saunders	$1	May have trouble winning games with D-backs.
371	Brett Wallace	$1	Stability could help thrice-traded prospect.
372	Barry Zito	$1	Days as viable mixed-leaguer appear numbered.
373	Derek Lowe	$1	Mostly an NL-only guy at this point in career.
374	Casey Blake	$1	Aging hot cornerman starting to slip.
375	Mark Ellis	$1	Age, injuries point to decline.
376	Brandon Allen	$1	Power prospect ready, but will he find AB's?
377	Brett Cecil	$1	Could have value in deeper mixed leagues.
378	Justin Masterson	$1	Has strikeout potential, but could fit best in 'pen.

379	Kosuke Fukudome	$1	Everyday at-bats may hinge on ability to lead off.
380	Jesus Montero	$1	Monster power, but 2012 breakout is more likely.
381	Michael Brantley	$1	Strong finish to '10 creates optimism.
382	Todd Helton	$1	Return to prime form unlikely at 37.
383	Brent Morel	$1	Promising youngster a ROY candidate.
384	Travis Hafner	$1	Injuries and declining power limit value.
385	Michael Saunders	$1	Low AVG keeps him a deep AL-only option.
386	Johan Santana	$1	Ailing ace likely to miss half of '11.
387	Mike Pelfrey	$1	See-saw '10 casts doubt on reliability.
388	Milton Bradley	$1	Has produced before, but extremely risky.
389	Chris Narveson	$1	Strong stint in '10 solidified rotation slot.
390	Chris Sale	$1	Smoke-throwing prospect boasts monster sleeper potential.
391	Jeff Francis	$1	Entering make-or-break territory.
392	Evan Meek	$1	Will begin season in setup role.
393	Jason Vargas	$1	Doesn't throw hard, but rarely beats himself.
394	Phil Coke	$1	Will attempt to make transition to rotation.
395	Joel Pineiro	$1	Low upside due to lack of K's.
396	Jason Hammel	$1	Could surprise if he improves road splits.
397	Jose Guillen	$1	Veteran's future is uncertain.
398	Dan Johnson	$1	Rays' offseason moves will limit his at-bats.
399	Garrett Jones	$1	Production to drop with move to part-time role.
400	Lorenzo Cain	$1	Outfielder was a key piece in Greinke deal.
401	Aaron Harang	$1	Will try to resume past form in San Diego.
402	Brian Duensing	$1	Enjoyed success in both setup and starting roles in '10.
403	Fred Lewis	$1	Decreasing OBP may cost him a shot to lead off.
404	Scott Kazmir	$1	Don't bet on return to '08 form.
405	Andruw Jones	$1	Average remains low, but power numbers are solid.

406	John Jaso	$1	Takes tons of walks, tied to powerful lineup.
407	Jim Thome	$1	Hulking slugger still ripping at 40.
408	Livan Hernandez	$1	Savvy innings-eater running on fumes.
409	J.A. Happ	$1	Modest peripherals suggest potential regression.
410	Matt Dominguez	$1	Call to Majors hinges on continued offensive strides.
411	Kevin Correia	$1	Move to Pittsburgh hurts value.
412	Jerry Hairston	$1	Career utility man still getting job done.
413	Carlos Gomez	$1	Strong defense helps chances of racking up steals.
414	Tim Stauffer	$1	Quality reliever heading back to starting duty.
415	John Lannan	$1	Few Ks, worsening control not a recipe for success.
416	Edgar Renteria	$1	World Series MVP has injury concerns at age 35.
417	Andrew Cashner	$1	Has upside, but must fine-tune control.
418	Chris Volstad	$1	Fluky 12-game winner thanks to generous run support.
419	Brandon Webb	$1	Two-time Cy Young winner aiming to debut in June.
420	Rick Porcello	$1	Strong finish to '10 campaign bodes well.
421	Doug Fister	$1	Hurt by lack of run support.
422	Felipe Lopez	$1	Versatile infielder was productive in '09.
423	Ivan Nova	$1	Could accumulate wins despite poor ratios.
424	Koji Uehara	$1	2011 role still up in the air.
425	Brad Bergesen	$1	Could be primed for breakout with good health.
426	Jamey Carroll	$1	Versatility gives vet solid value as utility player.
427	Kevin Slowey	$1	Control artist will begin '11 as a reliever.
428	Brendan Ryan	$1	Defensive specialist coming off poor offensive season.
429	Wade LeBlanc	$1	Will begin season in Minors.
430	Ronny Cedeno	$1	Average is an issue, but power/speed intriguing in NL-only.
431	Jeff Niemann	$1	Capable back-of-rotation mixed-league starter.
432	Luis Castillo	$1	Could see at-bats filling in for Chase Utley.

433	Kyle McClellan	$1	Will fill Adam Wainwright's rotation slot.
434	Tyler Clippard	$1	Will provide Ks and helpful ratios.
435	Frank Francisco	$1	Closer favorite will begin season on DL.
436	Josh Thole	$1	On-base skills make him NL-only sleeper.
437	Jeremy Jeffress	$1	High upside prospect could make impact in '11.
438	Brad Penny	$1	A good fit in Detroit.
439	Armando Galarraga	$1	Stock restricted to NL-only formats.
440	Nick Hundley	$1	Entering first season as full-time starter.
441	Maicer Izturis	$1	Utility man's value will depend on at-bats.
442	Alberto Callaspo	$1	Struggled after July trade to Angels.
443	Jeff Keppinger	$1	Little power or speed, and coming off surgery.
444	Juan Rivera	$1	Change of scenery can only help veteran.
445	Paul Maholm	$1	Eats innings, but does little else.
446	Ross Ohlendorf	$1	Undeserving of his 1-11 '10 record.
447	Vin Mazzaro	$1	Has opportunity to display talent in thin KC rotation.
448	Barry Enright	$1	Handled himself well in jump from Double-A.
449	Jason Donald	$1	Career .284 hitter in Minors can help AL-only owners.
450	Tommy Hunter	$1	Will open season on DL with groin strain.
451	Kyle Davies	$1	Durability makes him an AL-only candidate.
452	Sergio Mitre	$1	Could open season in Milwaukee's rotation.
453	Nick Blackburn	$1	Regressed in '10 after two solid seasons.
454	Alex Avila	$1	Starting gig is his, even after V-Mart signing.
455	Felipe Paulino	$1	Offseason acquisition could fit as swingman.
456	Chris Snyder	$1	Just enough pop to warrant interest.
457	Mark DeRosa	$1	Age, injuries catching up to veteran utility man.
458	Alex Gordon	$1	'11 could be last chance for former phenom.
459	Alexi Casilla	$1	Offered AVG and SB in Minors, but hasn't translated.

460	Xavier Nady	$1	Little value unless he claims 1B job.
461	Melvin Mora	$1	Vet can still produce with semi-regular AB's.
462	Felix Pie	$1	Former prospect will begin '11 in reserve role.
463	Kenley Jansen	$1	Future closer will serve as high-octane setup man.
464	Dave Bush	$1	Quality spot starter in deeper mixed leagues.
465	Bruce Chen	$1	Versatile left-hander coming off impressive '10.
466	Mitch Talbot	$1	Pitched well before hitting rookie wall in '10.
467	Austin Kearns	$1	Will see at-bats at least until Grady Sizemore returns.
468	Ryan Hanigan	$1	Value limited by timeshare with Ramon Hernandez.
469	Ryan Doumit	$1	Role uncertain after Pirates' offseason moves.
470	Freddy Garcia	$1	Will open season in Yankees' rotation.
471	Jayson Nix	$1	Power potential offset by inconsistency.
472	Ryan Spilborghs	$1	Delivers solid production in part-time role.
473	Ramon Hernandez	$1	Veteran backstop will split duty with Ryan Hanigan.
474	Mike Fontenot	$1	Can provide useful offense from platoon role
475	Scott Hairston	$1	Capable of rebounding in part-time role.
476	Rod Barajas	$1	Enough power to intrigue in NL-only formats.
477	Homer Bailey	$1	Will begin season on DL.
478	Roger Bernadina	$1	SB potential if he finds full-time role.
479	Mike Cameron	$1	Will serve as Boston's fourth OF.
480	Melky Cabrera	$1	Lorenzo Cain could limit his at-bats later in 2011.
481	Sean Marshall	$1	Thriving in relief role.
482	Dustin Moseley	$1	Must up K-rate to provide value.
483	Zach Duke	$1	Peripherals heading in wrong direction.
484	Wilson Betemit	$1	Utility man should return to earth in '11.
485	Luke Hochevar	$1	Former No. 1 overall pick hasn't fulfilled promise.
486	Chris Heisey	$1	Solid all-around outfielder to back up for now.

487	Eric Hinske	$1	Vet set to deliver usual part-time thump.
488	Chris Young	$1	Past success makes him worth a late-round pick.
489	Marc Rzepczynski	$1	Good source of strikeouts in AL-only formats.
490	Corey Patterson	$1	Speed could provide some value.
491	Chien-Ming Wang	$1	Health still a major issue, but worth watching.
492	Marcus Thames	$1	Solid option vs. left-handed pitching.
493	Jeff Mathis	$1	Light-hitter should see more time after Mike Napoli trade.
494	Everth Cabrera	$1	Worthy speed source even after sophomore struggles.
495	Lastings Milledge	$1	Former top prospect could fit with White Sox.
496	Aaron Rowand	$1	Will likely have to settle for backup role.
497	Scott Sizemore	$1	Power/speed combo in Minors, but must earn another shot.
498	Bengie Molina	$1	Veteran still unsigned in late March.
499	Matt Diaz	$1	Valuable platoon bat vs. LHP's.
500	Josh Tomlin	$1	Projected to make Opening Day rotation.
501	Chris Capuano	$1	Vet to provide rotation depth in New York.
502	Rick Ankiel	$1	Needs to prove he can remain healthy, productive.
503	Luke French	$1	Fly-ball pitcher fits at Safeco Field.
504	Jake Arrieta	$1	Solid AL-only option in sophomore season.
505	Mark Teahen	$1	Headed for utility duty in '11.
506	Jeff Baker	$1	Limited by struggles vs. right-handers.
507	Rich Harden	$1	High risk, but how high is reward?
508	Kyle Lohse	$1	Poor rate stats limit value.
509	Ivan Rodriguez	$1	Does all-time great have anything left?
510	Cesar Izturis	$1	Infield logjam could reduce playing time.
511	Chris Denorfia	$1	Has emerged as solid fourth outfielder.
512	Jason Marquis	$1	2009 career year looks like a fluke.
513	Casey Coleman	$1	A spot-start option later this season.

514	Daniel Murphy	$1	Making rare switch from 1B to 2B.
515	Alexi Ogando	$1	A closer candidate if Neftali Feliz starts.
516	Paul Janish	$1	Multi-position eligibility a plus for fourth-year infielder.
517	Erik Bedard	$1	Talent is unquestioned, but injury history is major issue.
518	Matt Lindstrom	$1	Could close if Huston Street suffers injury.
519	Mark Melancon	$1	Will benefit from increased big league opportunity.
520	Jonathan Lucroy	$1	Fractured finger could delay '11 debut.
521	David Eckstein	$1	Limited offensive value eroded by age and injuries.
522	Josh Fields	$1	Trying to revive career as utility man.
523	Chris Davis	$1	Change of scenery needed to jumpstart young career.
524	Humberto Quintero	$1	Likely to start after Jason Castro's injury.
525	Adam Rosales	$1	Utility player could provide pop and speed if he plays.
526	Ryan Church	$1	Remains capable of contributing in backup role.
527	Yorvit Torrealba	$1	Should benefit from Rangers' lineup, ballpark.
528	Grant Balfour	$1	Making great strides in control department.
529	Will Rhymes	$1	Showed high AVG, steals in Minors.
530	Jack Wilson	$1	Will hold down second base until Dustin Ackley arrives.
531	J.D. Martin	$1	Back surgery cut '10 season short.
532	Joba Chamberlain	$1	Has steadily improved since permanent switch to pen.
533	Ryan Sweeney	$1	May not see AB's in crowded outfield.
534	Sean O'Sullivan	$1	Wouldn't crack rotation on most Major League clubs.
535	Matt Maloney	$1	Opportunity will have to come via 'pen.
536	Jay Gibbons	$1	Resurgent vet to settle into part-time role.
537	David Pauley	$1	Could earn Opening Day rotation slot.
538	Scott Feldman	$1	Undefined role after offseason surgery.
539	Sergio Romo	$1	Dominant '10 could be sign of things to come.
540	Nelson Figueroa	$1	Swingman strictly NL-only fodder.

541	Nick Johnson	$1	Signed Minor League deal with Cleveland in March.
542	Casper Wells	$1	Will likely have trouble finding AB's.
543	Aaron Cook	$1	Soft-tosser a low-K option.
544	Gerardo Parra	$1	Likely headed for fewer AB's.
545	Wilson Ramos	$1	Could take over starting duties by mid-season.
546	Michael Wuertz	$1	Slow start to '10 long forgotten.
547	Hisanori Takahashi	$1	Do-it-all hurler can fill any role.
548	Scott Downs	$1	Veteran lefty broke his toe in March.
549	Luis Valbuena	$1	Was unable to translate plate discipline to Majors in '10.
550	Andy LaRoche	$1	Former top prospect will settle for backup role.
551	Tim Wakefield	$1	Likely to begin season in bullpen.
552	Octavio Dotel	$1	Sidelined through Opening Day with sore hamstring
553	Casey Kotchman	$1	Noted gloveman merely passable at the dish.
554	John Bowker	$1	Has pop, but no starting job.
555	Ramon Santiago	$1	Veteran provides AL-only infield depth.
556	Mat Gamel	$1	Role uncertain for former top prospect.
557	Laynce Nix	$1	Raked before injury limited him late in '10.
558	Sergio Santos	$1	Deep sleeper for saves.
559	Mike Carp	$1	Sweet-swinger could step in if Smoak isn't ready.
560	Tony Gwynn	$1	Will likely slot into fourth-outfielder role.
561	Esmil Rogers	$1	Throws gas, but will have to fight for starts.
562	Jake McGee	$1	Don't be surprised if he's closing by July.
563	Mike Leake	$1	2010 surprise no lock to start year in Majors.
564	Brayan Pena	$1	Jason Kendall's injury should mean more at-bats.
565	Brooks Conrad	$1	Provides insurance for oft-injured Chipper Jones.
566	Jordan Schafer	$1	Window could open again soon for fallen prospect.
567	Edward Mujica	$1	Great command, but must limit homers.

568	Zach Britton	$1	Sinkerballer should finish season with O's.
569	Manny Parra	$1	May have found permanent home in bullpen.
570	Nick Punto	$1	Expected to miss 8-12 weeks after hernia surgery.
571	Carlos Silva	$1	Cinderalla first half submarined by post-break collapse.
572	Hank Conger	$1	Mike Napoli trade opens up at-bats.
573	George Kottaras	$1	Could see more at-bats while Jonathan Lucroy recovers.
574	Yunesky Maya	$1	Cuban import has potential, but lacks rotation spot.
575	Tyler Greene	$1	Decent power/speed combo for middle infielder.
576	Dayan Viciedo	$1	Power prospect will adjust to 1B in Minors.
577	Michael Gonzalez	$1	Behind Gregg in closer hierarchy.
578	Matt Guerrier	$1	Should continue to impress in setup role.
579	Jason Motte	$1	Could close if Ryan Franklin stumbles.
580	Emilio Bonifacio	$1	Has speed, but other skills still lacking.
581	Rafael Betancourt	$1	Reliable veteran continues to shine.
582	Jason Frasor	$1	Behind several others in saves pecking order.
583	Eric Patterson	$1	Could provide speed if he finds regular at-bats.
584	Wes Helms	$1	Likely to be limited pinch-hitting vs. LHP.
585	Peter Moylan	$1	Groundball specialist a model of consistency.
586	Vicente Padilla	$1	Surgery will delay season debut.
587	David Robertson	$1	Will strive to build on solid '10 finish.
588	Carlos Carrasco	$1	Strikeout pitcher could have value in AL-only formats.
589	Jordan Walden	$1	Move to 'pen fast-tracked right-hander.
590	Dan Cortes	$1	Success will depend on walk rate.
591	Darren Oliver	$1	Continues to baffle lefties.
592	Brent Lillibridge	$1	Minor League SB machine hasn't made good in bigs.
593	Reed Johnson	$1	Sub-par K/BB ratio is cause for concern.
594	Jarrod Dyson	$1	Only value is steals in deeper AL-only leagues.

595	Trevor Crowe	$1	Unlikely to see as many AB's this season.
596	Kerry Wood	$1	Will serve as eighth-inning man and fill-in closer.
597	Randy Winn	$1	Veteran's career winding down.
598	Brandon Belt	$1	Fast-rising thumper could be a late-season factor.
599	Willie Bloomquist	$1	Utility man delivers respectable AVG, some speed.
600	Travis Ishikawa	$1	Capable reserve can start if called on.
601	David Hernandez	$1	Seems to have found home in bullpen.
602	Chris Tillman	$1	Has yet to carry over Minor League success to bigs.
603	Jordan Lyles	$1	Likely to debut this season.
604	Kyle Kendrick	$1	Has trouble keeping ball in the yard.
605	Ben Sheets	$1	Not expected to return until mid-summer at earliest.
606	Scott Olsen	$1	Change of scenery, but likely same results.
607	Brett Lawrie	$1	Upside at the plate is Jeff Kent.
608	Cole Gillespie	$1	Could fill fourth OF role by mid-season.
609	Kevin Jepsen	$1	Live arm still developing.
610	Jose Iglesias	$1	Defense at shortstop is his calling card.
611	Sean Burnett	$1	Coming off career-best season.
612	Jon Jay	$1	LaRussa favorite could split time with Lance Berkman.
613	Tanner Scheppers	$1	Could be ace starter or shutdown reliever.
614	Allen Craig	$1	Promising hitter will adjust to backup role for now.
615	Jeff Karstens	$1	Soft-tossing starter has little value.
616	Yonder Alonso	$1	Youngster can mash, but first base is blocked with Reds.
617	Aaron Miles	$1	Can hit for average but little power or speed.
618	Chris Carter	$1	Could find work in platoon role.
619	Tony Abreu	$1	Hasn't translated high Minors AVG to bigs.
620	John McDonald	$1	Stellar fielder offers little value with bat.
621	Jonathan Herrera	$1	Poor stolen base rates could lead to red lights.

622	Simon Castro	$1	San Diego provides ideal environment for debut.
623	Rodrigo Lopez	$1	Stock restricted to NL-only formats.
624	Juan Gutierrez	$1	Value is tied to J.J. Putz's health, performance.
625	Charlie Morton	$1	Former prospect running out of big league chances.
626	Matt Tuiasosopo	$1	Yet to prove deserving of regular big league AB's
627	Arthur Rhodes	$1	Getting better with age.
628	Ernesto Frieri	$1	Promising prospect impressive in rookie campaign.
629	Ben Revere	$1	Prospect got first taste of Majors in '10.
630	Miguel Cairo	$1	Veteran backup showing few signs of slowing.
631	Omar Vizquel	$1	Veteran defensive whiz still churning out hits.
632	Jeremy Hermida	$1	A deep NL-only pick at best.
633	John Ely	$1	Odd man out in Dodgers rotation.
634	Brandon Wood	$1	Former can't-miss prospect still looking to stick.
635	Wilson Valdez	$1	Journeyman answered call in bigger role last season.
636	Andres Blanco	$1	Solid utility player in AL-only formats.
637	Kyle Gibson	$1	Proved health, durability in '10.
638	Ross Detwiler	$1	Former top prospect will return to Minors.
639	Carlos Monasterios	$1	Has found niche in bullpen.
640	Dioner Navarro	$1	Could see improved numbers splitting time with Rod Barajas.
641	Gabe Gross	$1	Didn't make Mariners' roster.
642	Chris Carter	$1	Powerful prospect worth a late-round look.
643	Jason Giambi	$1	Body can't handle rigors of an everyday job.
644	Greg Dobbs	$1	Rebound potential matters little for pinch-hitter.
645	Jesse Crain	$1	Late-2010 dominance could carry over into '11.
646	Josh Bell	$1	Orioles' 3B of future will have to wait a little longer.
647	Oscar Salazar	$1	Doesn't offer much upside.
648	Jason Varitek	$1	More of a veteran mentor than anything else.

649	Gabe Kapler	$1	Will have to earn roster spot after injury-plagued '10.
650	Jake Fox	$1	Plenty of power, but lacks true position.
651	Aneury Rodriguez	$1	Rule 5 pick could win fifth-starter job.
652	Steve Tolleson	$1	Has sleeper potential in AL-only formats.
653	Hideki Okajima	$1	Bounceback campaign more than likely.
654	Brad Ziegler	$1	Finesse pitcher carries little fantasy appeal.
655	Eduardo Nunez	$1	Showed potential in limited role as rookie in '10.
656	Willy Aybar	$1	Weak defensively and bat barely strong enough to DH.
657	Matt Belisle	$1	Must prove last year was no fluke.
658	Kelly Shoppach	$1	Overtaken by John Jaso last season.
659	Josh Wilson	$1	Infielder doesn't bring much offense to table.
660	Tony Pena	$1	Long reliever not a fantasy factor.
661	Andy Sonnanstine	$1	Swingman will pitch middle innings.
662	Tommy Manzella	$1	Rookie season marred by struggles and injury.
663	Geoff Blum	$1	Vet's value limited to NL-only formats.
664	Kyle Blanks	$1	Out until midseason following Tommy John surgery.
665	Troy Glaus	$1	Righty slugger will sit out start of season.
666	Aaron Heilman	$1	Will attempt switch to starting role.
667	Mark Rogers	$1	Could be second-half factor if healthy.
668	Ramon Castro	$1	Veteran will once again fill backup role.
669	Justin Maxwell	$1	Window closing on aging prospect.
670	Dillon Gee	$1	Young righty should earn more starts this season.
671	Bartolo Colon	$1	Little impact since '05.
672	Gerald Laird	$1	A little pop, but Yadier Molina plays nearly every day.
673	Ryan Kalish	$1	Promising talent, but low on OF depth chart.
674	Xavier Paul	$1	Starting window remains open -- barely.
675	Joe Thatcher	$1	Dominant for two years running.

676	Michael Dunn	$1	Won't get ball in 9th until he improves command.
677	George Sherrill	$1	Will try to put disastrous '10 behind him.
678	Craig Counsell	$1	Journeyman infielder's main attribute is versatility.
679	Darwin Barney	$1	Could lock down utility role for big league club.
680	John Mayberry	$1	Former top power prospect still looking to make mark.
681	Kyle Farnsworth	$1	Not draft-worthy, despite stellar '10.
682	Scott Cousins	$1	Will try to seize fourth-outfielder gig.
683	David Ross	$1	Won't see many AB's as Brian McCann's backup.
684	Koyie Hill	$1	Veteran won't see much time behind Geovanny Soto.
685	Jeanmar Gomez	$1	Value restricted to deeper AL-only formats.
686	Ramiro Pena	$1	Could get callup as utility man.
687	Santiago Casilla	$1	Will have trouble maintaining '10 production level.
688	Kevin Millwood	$1	Durability is greatest asset at this point in career.
689	Brian Schneider	$1	Won't see much time behind workhorse Carlos Ruiz.
690	Brendan Harris	$1	Diminished hitting skills spell trouble for utility man.
691	Matt Treanor	$1	Traded to Royals in March.
692	Brian Bogusevic	$1	Former pitcher heading for backup OF role.
693	Nolan Reimold	$1	One-time prospect a deep sleeper.
694	Chad Qualls	$1	Will start anew in San Diego after dreadful '10.
695	Luis Durango	$1	Has speed to burn, but no immediate opportunity.
696	Delwyn Young	$1	Will mostly pinch-hit if he makes Phillies' roster.
697	Conor Jackson	$1	Avoid outside of AL-only formats.
698	Francisco Cervelli	$1	Broken foot leaves role in question.
699	Alberto Gonzalez	$1	Slick glove man lacks offensive skills.
700	Lou Marson	$1	Unlikely to play large role if Carlos Santana is healthy.
701	Emmanuel Burriss	$1	Will open 2011 in Minors.
702	Tyler Flowers	$1	Promising prospect took a step back in 2010.

703	Matt Tolbert	$1	Doesn't help much in any category.
704	Ryan Roberts	$1	Hoping to prove worth as utility man.
705	Vance Worley	$1	Opportunities limited by strong Phillies' rotation.
706	Doug Davis	$1	Not much zip in the veteran's fastball.
707	Jenrry Mejia	$1	Young fireballer to stretch out as starter in Triple-A.
708	Ronnie Belliard	$1	Never much with glove, now the bat is deserting him.
709	D.J. Carrasco	$1	Solid relief option, but not in closer mix.
710	Lucas Duda	$1	Ready for Majors, but blocked at 1B, LF.
711	Gregor Blanco	$1	Outfield additions may leave him off roster.
712	Dewayne Wise	$1	Backup provides most of his value with glove.
713	Alex Sanabia	$1	22-year-old in line for some Triple-A seasoning.
714	Pedro Feliciano	$1	One of baseball's most durable relievers.
715	Mark Trumbo	$1	Kendrys Morales' injury could open up playing time.
716	Sean West	$1	Unlikely to see many starts for Florida's deep staff.
717	Rob Johnson	$1	Average is an issue and PETCO Park won't help.
718	Aaron Cunningham	$1	Capable backup, but few at-bats available.
719	Jhan Marinez	$1	Strikeout stuff, but control is an issue.
720	Adam Kennedy	$1	Won bench job with Mariners.
721	Garrett Atkins	$1	Failed to make Pirates roster.
722	Ross Gload	$1	Opportunities will be limited behind Ryan Howard.
723	Mike Sweeney	$1	Professional hitter limited by injury issues.
724	Michael Taylor	$1	Prospect should make Major League debut this season.
725	Juan Francisco	$1	Power is real, but must improve defense.
726	Josh Reddick	$1	Won't break camp with Red Sox.
727	Hank Blalock	$1	Waiting for job after quiet '10.
728	Pedro Feliz	$1	Declining vet unlikely to find much playing time.
729	Adam Moore	$1	Will compete with Josh Bard to back up Miguel Olivo.

730	Julio Lugo	$1	Power, speed, playing time in decline.
731	Bobby Crosby	$1	Brings little to the table offensively.
732	Sam Demel	$1	Not quite ready for closing gig.
733	Jose Molina	$1	May see extra playing time if J.P. Arencibia struggles early.
734	Lonnie Chisenhall	$1	Little blocking his path to Cleveland.
735	Alex White	$1	Will get a rotation spot once he's ready.
736	Bryan Petersen	$1	Prospect needs to show improved form at plate.
737	Mike Jacobs	$1	Couldn't hold starting job with Mets last season.
738	Greg Halman	$1	Intriguing power/speed combo if he improves plate discipline.
739	Darnell McDonald	$1	Unlikely to see as much playing time as in '10.
740	Nick Weglarz	$1	He can hit, but can he stay healthy?
741	Andrew Oliver	$1	Likely Detroit's first starter call-up.
742	Landon Powell	$1	Ironman Kurt Suzuki limits Powell's value.
743	Danny Worth	$1	Speed sleeper if he finds playing time.
744	Will Ohman	$1	Unlikely to factor in saves mix.
745	Chris Resop	$1	Late '10 success should help him stick in Majors.
746	Cole Kimball	$1	Stuff improved after switch to 'pen.
747	Matt Stairs	$1	Old-timer can still deliver a few pinch-hit homers.
748	Zach Stewart	$1	Could be Toronto's first SP call-up.
749	Jesse Litsch	$1	Made 11 starts over last two seasons.
750	Brett Jackson	$1	Fast-riser could make Majors debut in '11.
751	J.C. Romero	$1	Increasing control problems a gloomy sign.
752	Eli Whiteside	$1	Will see fewer AB's with Buster Posey around all season.
753	Chris Carpenter	$1	Likely to debut as a reliever.
754	Cristian Guzman	$1	Never had much power and speed has faded.
755	Justin Duchscherer	$1	Expected to be ready for Opening Day.
756	Alex Presley	$1	Fringe big leaguer unlikely to see many AB's.

757	Todd Frazier	$1	Could find work as super-sub.
758	Brad Lincoln	$1	Former first-rounder a disappointment so far.
759	Andrew Brackman	$1	Towering righty made big strides in '10.
760	Todd Wellemeyer	$1	Won't make Cubs' Opening Day roster.
761	Jason Kendall	$1	Not expected back from shoulder surgery until mid-season.
762	Trayvon Robinson	$1	Speedster is a future leadoff hitter.
763	Blake Beavan	$1	Control artist likely to debut in '11.
764	Michael Kirkman	$1	Might open '11 in Minors.
765	Jeff Suppan	$1	Poor numbers since '07.
766	Mike Montgomery	$1	Should progress quickly if healthy.
767	John Lamb	$1	Southpaw could headline KC rotation by '12.
768	Rafael Perez	$1	Expect ERA jump.
769	Drew Butera	$1	Provides most of his value with defense.
770	Johnny Giavotella	$1	Royals' future at second base.
771	Cord Phelps	$1	Lower upside than Indians' other infield prospects.
772	Don Kelly	$1	Versatility provides some value, but not much.
773	Lucas May	$1	Should see some AB's while Jason Kendall recovers.
774	Jay Jackson	$1	Capable of starting or relief work.
775	Rudy Owens	$1	Control artist close to shot in Pittsburgh.
776	Ruben Tejada	$1	Still raw, and hasn't shown power or speed.
777	Jose Morales	$1	Will back up in Colorado after trade from Twins.
778	Matt Mangini	$1	Blasted Triple-A pitching last season.
779	Lance Lynn	$1	Ready for Major League duty when called upon.
780	Bryan Morris	$1	Set to begin '11 in Triple-A.
781	Henry Blanco	$1	Offseason pickup will back up to Miguel Montero.
782	Willie Harris	$1	Little value with the stick.
783	Reggie Willits	$1	Angels' fifth outfielder an emergency option only.

784	Jeff Clement	$1	Window closing for former top prospect.
785	Josh Rodriguez	$1	Looks like a future utility man.
786	Oswaldo Martinez	$1	Talented prospect has sleeper potential.
787	Ivan De Jesus	$1	Should be Dodgers' first infield call-up.
788	Mark Hamilton	$1	Blocked by Albert Pujols.
789	Craig Tatum	$1	Hit well down the stretch last season.
790	Trevor Plouffe	$1	Future could be as utility man.
791	Mitch Maier	$1	Crowded KC outfield leaves his role uncertain.
792	David Huff	$1	A late-round pick at best.
793	Lance Pendleton	$1	Trying to break into bigs at age 27.
794	Manuel Corpas	$1	Breakthrough '07 now a distant memory.
795	Mark Kotsay	$1	Not much punch left in the veteran's bat.
796	Taylor Teagarden	$1	At 27, former top prospect still unproven.
797	Dee Gordon	$1	Flash's kid has game-changing speed.
798	Devin Mesoraco	$1	Finally flashed potential in '10.
799	Jesus Flores	$1	Will try to regain form after two injury-ravaged seasons.
800	Augie Ojeda	$1	Value is mainly defensive.
801	Corey Brown	$1	Has 20-20 skillset.
802	Adrian Cardenas	$1	Settling in as offensive-minded 2B.
803	Eric Chavez	$1	Injury-ravaged veteran surprised during Spring Training.
804	Sam LeCure	$1	Unlikely to earn rotation slot.
805	Joel Zumaya	$1	Health status again in question.
806	Anthony Rizzo	$1	Masher arrived in Adrian Gonzalez deal.
807	Joaquin Arias	$1	Minor League numbers haven't translated in bigs.
808	Dustin McGowan	$1	Sidelined since '08.
809	Martin Perez	$1	Could debut in '11 at age 20.
810	Clayton Mortensen	$1	Likely to begin season in Minors.

811	Luis Atilano	$1	Righty will begin season in Minors.
812	Josh Bard	$1	Lost reserve backstop competition to Adam Moore.
813	Eric Sogard	$1	Versatile, and has solid on-base skills.
814	Lars Anderson	$1	At-bats hard to come by with A-Gone, Papi in the fold.
815	John Baker	$1	Won't be fully recovered from surgery by Opening Day.
816	Tyler Chatwood	$1	Undersized righty boasts big velocity.
817	Steve Pearce	$1	Limited ceiling for 1B/OF reserve.
818	Fernando Tatis	$1	Little more than bench fodder at this stage of career.
819	Chin-lung Hu	$1	Not expected to see much playing time.
820	Oliver Perez	$1	Released by Mets in March.
821	Christopher Archer	$1	Right-hander was major piece of Garza deal.
822	Wilin Rosario	$1	His bat has star potential.
823	Robert Andino	$1	Low on Orioles' infield depth chart.
824	Jason Castro	$1	Could miss entire season with knee injury.
825	John Hester	$1	Unlikely to break camp with D-backs.
826	Austin Romine	$1	Profiles as a future everyday catcher.
827	Eric Hosmer	$1	Loads of potential, but probably a year away.
828	Michael Bowden	$1	Will spend more time in Minors.
829	Adam Everett	$1	Defensive specialist owns career .243 average.
830	Ian Snell	$1	Needs to improve control before meriting consideration.
831	Thomas Neal	$1	Above average in several areas.
832	Mike McCoy	$1	Minor League speedster hoping for big league shot.
833	Diory Hernandez	$1	Showed improvement at plate in winter ball.
834	Robb Quinlan	$1	Will be hard-pressed to find AB's this season.
835	Brandon Laird	$1	Could see big-league time off bench.
836	Chris Nelson	$1	Former first-rounder doesn't have definite role.
837	Alejandro De Aza	$1	A final-round AL-only pick at best.

838	Kris Medlen	$1	Likely to miss entire season after Tommy John surgery.
839	Chris Valaika	$1	Has tools, waiting for big league opportunity.
840	Chris Marrero	$1	Big power, but defense needs work.
841	Drew Sutton	$1	Does little with bat, but can play multiple positions.
842	Jeff Samardzija	$1	Control a major issue.
843	Brandon Guyer	$1	Well-rounded OF should contribute soon.
844	Jordan Brown	$1	Will try to earn bench job during Spring Training.
845	Tom Koehler	$1	Right-hander went 16-2 in '10.
846	Charlie Haeger	$1	Knuckleballer likely to begin season in Minors.
847	LaTroy Hawkins	$1	Rehabbing veteran won't be healthy for Opening Day.
848	Omar Beltre	$1	Could likely use more seasoning in Minors.
849	Luke Hughes	$1	Path to bigs hindered by defensive struggles.
850	Mike Trout	$1	Prospect dominated in Minors, but '11 impact unlikely.
851	Jeremy Bonderman	$1	Could sit out 2011 season.
852	Luis Cruz	$1	Figures to spend bulk of '11 campaign in Minors.
853	Ryan Rohlinger	$1	Former first-rounder has struggled to meet expectations.
854	Bryce Harper	$1	Unlimited upside, but still a few years away.
855	Stephen Strasburg	$1	Future ace likely to miss '11 after Tommy John surgery.
856	Andy Pettitte	$1	Savvy veteran retired in Feb.
857	Jim Edmonds	$1	Veteran slugger retired in Feb.
858	Adam Wainwright	$1	Will miss entire 2011 season after Tommy John surgery.